Subj: AUXILIARY RADIO FACILITY IDENTIFICATION

1. AUXDATA facility recording requires that radio facilities have a unique Facility Identification. This Memo provides the definition of the D1NR Auxiliary Radio Facility Identification that is consistent with assignments in other Auxiliary Districts and Regions, and does not conflict with existing practice in D1SR.
2. A radio facility identification number will be the letters "NF" (for fixed land/transportable facilities) or "NM" (for land mobile facilities), followed by the digits "013" followed by a two character alphabetic field. The trailing two character alphabetic field will be unique within all D1NR assignments.
3. The alphabetic trailing field will be assigned starting at "AA", then "BA", "CA", and so on. After field "ZA", the next assignment would be "AB", then "BB", "BC", and so on. The letters I, O, and Q will be skipped due to confusion with written digits.
4. The radio facility Facility Identification is visible in AUXDATA, POMS, and AUXINFO solely to uniquely identify a specific radio facility. It is not to be used as a call sign.
5. Internet release of this memo is authorized.
